The background is a collage of financial-related images. At the top, there's a close-up of a document with columns of numbers, some in red and some in black ink. Below this, a portion of a silver calculator is visible, showing buttons like 'MC', 'MR', and 'M+'. A bright green horizontal band cuts across the middle of the image. Below the green band, there's a semi-transparent blue rectangle containing a bar chart with several vertical bars of varying heights. At the very bottom, there's a blue and white line graph, possibly representing a stock market or data trend.
